

Monica Grubbs
Contact: monica@bbsshoals.org
(256) 246-2732

Lauderdale County Children's Policy Council

01/10/2008

For Immediate Use

Florence Kiwanis Host their First Annual Parenting Fair

Florence, AL - The Florence Kiwanis Club presents the 1st annual Parenting Fair, which will be held at the Brandon Ministry Center (Old Brandon Elementary School) on Saturday, March 15 from 8:30 a.m. - 12:15 p.m. The Children's Policy Council will also host the event, with a guest appearance by Judge Sandlin.

The event will have free refreshments, compliments of the Florence Kiwanis Club, as well as door prizes. There will also be booths set up during the event so parents can receive even more information about parenting and programs for children.

The Parenting Fair will have five different topics throughout the morning. Professionals from around the area will be speaking on Substance Abuse, Engaging Children in Building Self-Esteem, Consistent Discipline, Finance, and Internet Safety.

"Raising our children is the most important and difficult job we have," says Judge Sandlin, "but this is a great opportunity for parents to learn and improve their parenting skills."

The Brandon Ministry Center, which houses the United Way, Shoals Family Success Center, Attention Homes, Habitat for Humanity, Alabama Department of Public Health, Healing Place, Shoals Family Council, Juvenile Court RAP Program, and Big Brothers Big Sisters is located at 300 Industry Street in Florence.

This Parenting Fair is free to the public and should not be missed. Don't forget to put the Florence Kiwanis Club's 1st annual Parenting Fair on your calendar today.